

Monday 27. 4. 2009 – Semperdepot, M1
– open to general public

15:30 Open Source Seminar

Conceived and organized by students from the class:
Chui Yong Jian- Cain, Annalisa Cannito, Ivette Mrova, Philipp Leitner

Talk by Denis Rojo (Jaromil), presented and moderation by Philipp Leitner

Denis Rojo (Jaromil), originally trained as a linguist, is an artist, theorist and programmer who is currently based in Amsterdam. Through his support for the development and distribution of free and open software, he tries to overcome existing restrictions and borders, whether economic, social or scientific. Taking an alternative stance to 'profit and power' oriented apparatuses, he is strongly engaged in building networks as a means of sharing tools – choosing to view knowledge as a dialogical and non-hierarchical process. By channeling personal insights into collaborative action, he shows a deep understanding for the problems of our time and possible solutions.
